

KILLED ONE BROTHER AND BLINDED ANOTHER; TRIED TO SCARE THEM

Appalling Act of Eleven Year Old Son of John Wesley Smith, Prominent Citizen of Adams Township--Dispute Over Pocket Knife Leads to Shocking Fratricide.

One brother killed and the other fatally wounded is the result of a minute's anger on the part of eleven-year-old Wesley Smith, son of John Wesley Smith, a prominent farmer of Adams township. Fourteen-year-old Howard Smith is dead. Nineteen-year-old Charles Smith never saw again and his death is due to the result of the fratricide. A twenty-five cent pocket knife is the cause of the fratricide. The three brothers were up in the woods Monday afternoon, several rods from their home, and about a mile and a half from Evansburg on the Kersville road. They had been out to chop wood, and the eldest had taken his Single Barrel Shot Gun with him, thinking doubtless that the stray chipmunk would cross his path. For an hour or two the boys chopped merrily away, but finally in a quarrel, the pocket knife of Wesley was taken from him. Words followed and the others teased him. The quarrel was just a little brotherly misunderstanding such as comes at times to all families. Laughter and frowns followed one another in quick succession. Wesley walked over to where the gun stood and with an Air of Bravado remarked that he "would shoot them if they didn't hand back the knife." Charles, the elder brother, stood behind the younger boy with his head peering over his shoulder, and they both shouted derisively at the mad-cap with the gun. The boy gave the gun a flourish. He says he did not mean to pull the trigger, or to shoot. He just Wanted to Scare Them. The report rang out. Like a stone, Howard fell dead. With a scream of agony Charles staggered back with his hands at his head. Both his eyes were shot and his face, neck and shoulders were filled with shot. The boy with the gun looked on with dilated eyes, hardly knowing what he had done. In a nearby field was Mrs. Smith. She heard the report of the gun and the cry of her son, and flew to the scene. Her three sons were within thirty feet from each other; one dead, one blind and perhaps dying, and the other with the smoking gun still clutched in his hand. The Agony of the Mother beggars description. The news of the terrible catastrophe went over the neighborhood like the wind. The dead boy was carried tenderly to the house and the wounded one picked up by strong men and placed on a couch. A physician was summoned from Newcomertown. With him came the undertaker. Coroner Marshall drove out this morning and returned at noon. Charles, the wounded brother, is resting very easily and the opinion is that he will recover. Nor is it yet known whether his blindness will be permanent or only temporary, as the eyes are not so badly hurt as at first imagined. The funeral of little Howard took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, the body being.

Laid to Rest in the Swigart cemetery, followed by a large concourse of mourning friends of the family. Dr. Marshall states that the scene at the house this morning, and the grief of the father and mother, are heart-rending. The fourteen-year-old slayer of his brother, seems stunned by his woeful act, and does not yet realize the awful import of it. Dr. Marshall states that as near as he could learn, the boys had had no quarrel, but that the younger had picked up the gun out of curiosity and it accidentally went off. It was a hammerless gun. Reports from Evansburg, however, are clear that the boys had had a quarrel over a pocket knife. "Never in my life have I seen such grief as there is at that afflicted home," said Dr. Marshall. "The father, mother and two sisters are prostrated with the terrible shock, and the little fellow that did it sobs continuously. He seems almost stunned, and sits and softly wails and mourns, hour after hour."

BOARD OF TRADE INSISTS ON BETTER SUPPLY CITY WATER

Matter to Be Taken Before City Council, And Immediate Improvements Urged-- Means Commercial Prosperity.

The board of trade has taken in hand the scarcity of water in Coshocton, and it is likely will present the matter in its most serious aspect to the city council at tonight's session. Work was dropped on the construction of the new brick plant Monday because of the shortage of water, necessary in the preparation of mortar, etc. Said a member of the board to The Age today: "There is no use in the board's trying to get new plants in Coshocton, if the water supply is to be permitted to dwindle down. It is a matter of commercial importance and must be taken up at once. It is rather a paradoxical situation, too, for there is no city in the state better situated for a water supply than Coshocton. The fault lies in the water works. If it is that we have too small a suction pipe from the wells, then let the council contract for a new and larger one at once. Or, if the pumps are not large enough for the present population, then let the city council or board of public service or whoever has it in charge, look to it to see that the growth of the city is not stunted by a lack of water. We have the finest water in the world at our command, and the supply is copious. Council must take some advanced action on the matter at once. It means commercial prosperity for Coshocton."

TAFT EVOLVES GOVERNMENT FOR MORO PROVINCE

[By Telegraph to The Age.] Manila, June 9.—The Philippine commission has provided a form of government for the Moros. A bill drafted jointly by Governor Taft and General Davis, makes the Moro province an autonomous Philippine colony with an appointive legislative council whose enactments are subject to the approval of the Philippine commission. Governor Taft will appoint a council consisting of a governor, secretary, treasurer, engineer and superintendent of schools. The council will have authority to abolish slavery. It is expected Gen Leonard Wood will be the first governor.

T. C. ROCHE GRANTED DIVORCE IN PROBATE COURT

Judge Thomas C Roche, was granted a divorce from Mary Roche by Judge Donley in probate court, Monday evening. The divorce comes as a complete surprise except to a few persons immediately concerned. The petition, which was filed on the seventeenth of April, 1903, is very brief. It states that Mr. and Mrs. Roche were married November 14, 1871, and that they have no minor children; that the defendant has been guilty of gross neglect of duty in that for more than three years she has refused to cohabit with him, without excuse on her part and without fault on his. J. G. Daugherty was attorney for Roche. The case was not contested. The papers in the case have been withheld from publication and no notice of their being filed was placed on the records of the probate court. Judge Roche is authority for the statement that an agreement has been reached between him and his wife, that the case was not to be contested. Probate Judge Donley was very reticent about the matter, but when asked about the case this morning stated that he knew little about it; that Judge Roche, George Roche and Eva Roche appeared before him Monday evening; that Judge Roche stated to the court that he and his wife had reached an agreement as to settlement, but that it had not been decided whether it would be in realty or cash. Judge Donley stated that Mrs. Roche had no representative at the trial, nor had she had at any time. He said summons had been served on her but did not know where she is now. It is understood, however, that Mrs. Roche is on a visit at Adena, Harrison county. Judge Roche left the city this morning, going east on No. 10 on the Panhandle.

WATERS CREEP UPON ST. LOUIS

Damage Already Reaches $3,000,000--Thieves Loot Houses.

[By Telegraph to The Age.] St. Louis, June 9.—So unreliable the various rumors of increasing inundation and great loss of life that an understated summary of the losses lives and property damage cannot be made. With the constant rising of the water, the alarm and excitement caused rumor to be accepted for fact, although it is admitted on all sides the loss is already large. However, information from apparently reliable sources showed the situation to be as follows: River stage, feet, stationary. Twenty lives known to have been lost. Over 200,000 acres of rich farming lands under water. All of Venice and the greater part of Madison and of Granite City under water. Twenty-five thousand people homeless. Freight traffic paralyzed and passenger traffic crippled. Shipping and manufacturing districts of East St. Louis for three miles along the river front under from two to eight feet of water. Hundreds of thousands of stock drowned. East St. Louis threatened with inundation. St. Louis flooded only along the water front. Entire property loss estimated $3,000,000. It is more than probable that the estimate of 20 lives lost is below the actual number. On all sides persons found who tell of having seen men struggling in the water too far from land to receive assistance, or of men apparently drowned under unusual circumstances. But these tales are so varied that confirmation is impossible. River Thieves at Work. River thieves are looting the various small houses. Men in skiffs have been seen to enter half submerged houses in Venice, Madison and Granite City and carry away everything they could find. At East St. Louis, Mayor Cook ordered all business suspended and called on every male citizen to render aid in preventing the inundation of the city. Mayor Cook went about the city that signs were posted offering $31 cents an hour to build the levee, but the offers of employment were ignored by most of the throngs of unemployed negroes and white men. But citizens hurried to the levee of saving the city, and the city still dry, but still menaced by the d.

MINERS GO TO JAIL IN STYLE

Thirty-one Arrested for Alleged Violation of Injunction in Tennessee Coal Strike.

[By Telegraph to The Age.] Knoxville, Tenn., June 9.—With the American flag flying at half mast, carried by a miner, 27 members of the United Mine Workers of America marched from the depot to the jail at Clinton, Tenn. Thirty-one of the coal miners had been arrested on the charge of having violated an injunction granted by Judge H. G. Kyle in connection with efforts made to resume work at the mines of the Tennessee Coal company at Briceville, Tenn. Officials of the United Mine workers advised the men against giving bond except in four cases, and the 27 went to jail. In charge of deputy sheriffs they were brought from Coal Creek to Clinton, the county seat, and after alighting from the train formed a procession and marched to jail with the flag at their head. It is very probable that 100 arrests will be made in the next few days. No attempt was made Tuesday to resume work at the Tennessee company's mines. The United Mine workers' officials say that the union must be recognized before work is resumed and the operators of the mine decline to grant this recognition. Business Agent Arrested. New York, June 9.—Samuel Parks, business agent of the Houseman's and Bridgemen's union, was arrested and held in bonds for a hearing on a charge of extortion preferred by President Folsom, of the Hecla Iron works, and R. A. McCord, son of the president of the American Bridge company. It is alleged that Parks was given a check for $2,000 to settle a strike in the Hecla Iron works in May, 1902. District Attorney Jesome appeared personally at the hearing and asked for a heavy bail. He said: "I have received notice that this defendant has collected large sums of money. I learn that he received $500 from a certain club, where $4,800 had been collected previously. In the recent subway strike I am given to understand that he got $5,000." After his arraignment Parks said that he took the check in question, but said it was to be used for the "waiting time" of the men on strike. Look Out, Japan! Vladivostok, June 9.—The Russian war minister, General Kuroptkin, called today for Japan. Vote for most popular lady clerk.

BILL BAILEY'S GOT A HOME

Governor of Kansas Fulfills Campaign Promise and Takes Un- to Himself a Wife.

[By Telegraph to The Age.] Topeka, Kas., June 9.—Governor W. J. Bailey of Kansas left by way of Atchison where at the first Congregational church tonight he will wed Mrs. Ida B. Weed. It was the governor's intention to take a trip, but the flood and the cattlemen's war in Cheyenne county will cause a delay. Mrs. Weed, the bride-to-be, is a fascinating widow of about 35 years of age. She is a native of Baileyville, Kansas, the home town of the Kansas chief executive. Since Oct. 1, 1902, she has lived in Kansas City, where she was a clerk in the Parisian Cloak company's store. The marriage of Governor Bailey will be the fulfillment of a promise he made before his election as governor. He said if he were elected he would find a wife.

BREAKS IN LEVEE CAUSE APPREHENSION

[By Telegraph to The Age.] Memphis, Tenn., June 9.—Large forces of men are repairing the breaks in the Arkansas levee north of the city caused by the late flood. Repair work at two places has given away. A pile driver and ten thousand sacks have been sent to these points. A stage of 34 feet is probable at Memphis.

HIGHWAYMEN SHOOT VICTIMS

[By Telegraph to The Age.] Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 9.—Highwaymen stopped three men early this morning on the street and began to search their pockets. One made an outcry when the robbers fired on them, fatally wounding John Baldee and slightly wounding Benedict Kessler. Vote for most popular lady clerk.

RIISING BREAST

And many other painful and serious ailments from which most mothers suffer, can be avoided by the use of "Mother's Friend." This great remedy is a God-send to women, carrying them through their most critical ordeal with safety and no pain. No woman who uses "Mother's Friend" need fear the suffering and danger incident to birth; for it robs the ordeal of its horror and insures safety to life of mother and child, and leaves her in a condition more favorable to speedy recovery. The child is also healthy, strong and good natured. Our book "Motherhood," is worth its weight in gold to every woman, and will be sent free in plain envelope by addressing application to Bradfield Regulator Co. Atlanta, Ga.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

ORIGIN OF THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

A few months less than forty years ago five men met in a small room in Washington and laid the foundation for the order of Knights of Pythias, says the Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald. Three of the five are still living and residents of Washington. Two of the three surviving founders of the order are brothers, David L. Burnett and William H. Burnett. The third survivor is E. S. Kimball, Justus H. Rathbone and Robert A. Champion having passed away some years since.

It is a somewhat remarkable fact that at one time, since the organization of the order, none of the founders were affiliated with the Knights of Pythias and at the present time only one of the three survivors is a member of the order.

The first lodge established, Washington No. 1, disintegrated and completely went to pieces within eighteen months after its organization. In the meantime, however, other lodges had been established in the District of Columbia, from which seed had been scattered over the civilized world, until today the membership of the Knights of Pythias in the United States is upward of 600,000.

Mr. David L. Burnett is the only one of the original five founders of the order who retains his membership. "The Knights of Pythias is the outgrowth of a singing class formed here in Washington in 1863," remarked Mr. Burnett, who was its first "scribe" and an active figure in the plan of organization.

"I came from Mt. Pleasant, Ia., to Washington in 1863, as private secretary to Senator James Harlan. I was something of a singer, and in the course of a few weeks met Justus H. Rathbone and E. S. Kimball, also local musicians of considerable note. Early in 1864 my brother, William H., also a good singer, came on from Iowa, and Senator Harlan secured for him a position in the war department. Rathbone and Kimball were likewise employed."

"In the same office a young man by the name of Robert A. Champion was a clerk and, although Champion was not a singer he was a lover of music and a congenial soul. And so it came about that Rathbone, Kimball, Champion and my brother and myself formed a sort of social close corporation with music as the ground floor basis. Mr. Champion, not being able to participate in the practice insisted upon supplying the place for meeting so we met twice a week at his home for several weeks.

"Justus H. Rathbone was a character. He had dabbled in theatricals, minstrelsy, and was a singer of much more than ordinary ability, with a restless, ambitious temperament. He and Champion were members of the Order of Red Men, and enthusiastic secret society men.

"We had had a sort of intimation that Rathbone was at work upon some sort of scheme, but nothing definite was known until early in February, when, after the sing, Rathbone proceeded to unfold his plan. He had evolved a new secret order, he said, and declared his willingness to read the unfinished skeleton in our presence, but insisted that the balance of the quintet should be obligated. The obligation administered was not in 'form' but it was considered amply binding, and so proved.

"Rathbone drew a manuscript from his pocket and read to us the outline of the secret work. The work embodied practically all the tenets of the order of Knights of Pythias as now exemplified, although the arrangement was afterwards changed somewhat and the principal features elaborated. It is only just to Mr. Rathbone to say, however, that the features of Pythianism which have made the order so popular throughout the world were included in the first rough draft of the ritual as presented that memorable evening of February 15, 1864, in an upper chamber, with only four auditors.

Rathbone's motive in founding the new society was to provide a fraternal and beneficial order, and it was his purpose, originally, that its membership should be confined exclusively to clerks in the departments in Washington.

"After the reading of the ritual we all voted the plan a good one, and heartily approved the secret work; in fact we were all as enthusiastic as the writer of the ritual. At a late hour that night we parted with the understanding that another meeting should be held on the evening of February 19, four days later in a room on F street, between Ninth and Tenth, northwest. It was agreed that each of the five ground floor members should invite other clerks of good standing and character, whose affiliation would be congenial, and those invited should be present at the next meeting.

"On the evenings of February 19, 20 or 25 young men assembled in the room appointed. All were clerks in the departments, and in fact the greater portion were from the surgeon-general's office of the war department. There was, however, one exception, he being J. T. K. Plant, commonly known as "Alphabet Plant." Mr. Plant was present upon invitation of Mr. Rathbone, and the reasons for this departure, assigned by Mr. Rathbone, was that Mr. Plant was prominent in the Order of Red Men and Druids, and Rathbone thought he would be a good man to push the new society.

"The meeting was called to order by Mr. Rathbone who briefly stated the object of the gathering. All present were duly obligated, and the ritual read as it had been at the original meeting. Following the reading a society composed of those present was organized. Justus H. Rathbone was chosen the first presiding officer, denominated worthy chancellor, afterward changed to chancellor commander. Joel R. Woodruff was chosen worthy vice chancellor commander. J. T. K. Plant, (the outsider) worthy patriarch; D. L. Burnett, worthy scribe; A. D. Van der Veer, banker;

R. A. Champion, assistant scribe. The two Burnett brothers and E. S. Kimball and Charles H. Roberts were chosen chorist knights, the quartet. "At the time of the organization the work was conferred in only two degrees, the initiatory and second. A committee composed of Messrs. Rathbone, Kimball, W. H. Burnett and Plant were appointed to prepare for actual work the first degree—now the second degree. A committee was also appointed on appliances, regalia and the evening of February 23 named as the date for the next meeting.

"At this session the various committees which had been very active, reported, and were discharged. That night a committee consisting of Rathbone, D. L. Burnett and Woodruff was appointed to prepare the ritual of the third degree, the features of which had been largely separated from the second degree by the first named committee. The last named committee was authorized to devise signs, grips, pass words, etc.

"The next meeting was held on the evening of March 27, when the committee reported the ritual of the third degree, substantially as exemplified today. At this time officers were elected for a quarter. Soon after the matter of a grand lodge was taken up, and while at that time there appeared no particular need for such an organization, it was deemed advisable in view of what might develop to institute a body that should have ample jurisdiction and power, and the first grand lodge was instituted April 8, 1864, the only affiliating subordinate lodge and the only existing lodge being Washington No. 1.

"The second lodge was, however, organized four days later at the navy yard, known as Franklin No. 2, followed by Columbus No. 3, May 19; Potomac No. 4, June 2. The first outside lodge except Alexandria was instituted at Philadelphia, February 22, 1867."

For Wedding Presents.

The wedding present is something that almost every person occasionally finds it necessary to select, and it is usually a puzzling task to know just what will be acceptable to the young couple and not to be too much of a drain upon one's own pocketbook.

Small pieces of silver are almost certain to be duplicated; then, again they are of very little practical use. Nearly every bride is showered with strawberry forks, pickle forks, sardine forks and every other kind of fancy fork that was ever invented which are found to be of very little use.

Fine table linen is always acceptable; so is bed linen. A half dozen pillow slips, neatly made with hemstitched hems and embroidered initials is a very inexpensive gift, but it will rarely fail to please a bride who is going to housekeeping.

Nicely laundered and folded up in a pretty box with tissue paper and baby ribbons, it is an attractive looking gift as well.

There are plenty of things in the homely housekeeping line that would be acceptable to a sensible woman. Three duster bags made of white linen with a dozen hemmed dusters of scrim. A small square covered ironing board for pocket handkerchiefs and napkins with a couple of iron holders and an extra ironing cover. A clothespin bag, filled with several dozen new clothespins is not to be despised.

Then there are the fine linen towels for glass and chinaware. One can hardly have too large a supply of these commodities. A half-dozen of the regular size, hemmed and marked would be sure to win appreciation in some stage of the housekeeping experience. A dozen would be better, but at twenty-five cents each, which is the present price for the larger size it might be more expensive than one would care to put into such a gift.

Books are something more than gifts, they are friends, and a handsome set of some standard work will enrich the library and be a source of pleasure.

Then there are the art treasures of the world from which to draw, most satisfactory reproductions of great works which do not draw heavily upon the pocketbook.

A chafing dish, set with dishes, spoon, lamp filler, match box and tray makes a useful gift.

Referring again to gifts that are always acceptable because of the pleasure they bring are patent baking pans, a set of double boilers, or an ice cream freezer.

It warms the heart like sunshine, gives hope for the future, blots out cheers the soul like ancient wine, the past. That's what Rocky Mountain Tea does. 35 cents at C. E. Anderson's.

Cacao palms are used to give coffee shrubs the shade they require. Their crop is almost equally profitable.

Will Not Be Taken Alive.

Shoales, Ind., June 9.—The sheriff's posse hunting for Arthur Lyons, accused of murdering his stepmother, is still on his track, fresh evidence of his location having been discovered. Bloodhounds have been sent for. Lyons is hard pressed and would have been captured if it had not been for aid he received. He has lost his coat and vest and is clad only in shoes, pants, shirt and hat, with two 38-calibre revolvers in his hip-pockets. He has sent word to Sheriff Hoisapple that he will never be captured alive, but will kill himself first, and says his time is short under any circumstances.

"Flying Squadron" Abolished.

Washington, June 9.—As a result of the postoffice investigation what is known as the "Flying Squadron" of special agents of the rural free delivery service has been abolished as useless, and the five men engaged in the work transferred to other fields. These men investigated matters in all other divisions and reported direct to Washington, while all the other special agents reported to the headquarters of their respective divisions.

JAS. H. MONTGOMERY, M.D.

In a Carefully Prepared Article recommends Dr. D. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

In a recent issue of the New York Magazine of Sanitation and Hygiene, the recognized authority on all matters pertaining to health, James H. Montgomery, M. D., says editorially:

"After a careful investigation of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, a specific for kidney, liver and bladder troubles, rheumatism, dyspepsia and constipation with its attendant ills, we are free to confess that a more meritorious medicine has never come under the examination of the chemical and medical experts of the New York Magazine of Sanitation and Hygiene. In fact, after the most searching tests and rigid inquiry into the record of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, it becomes a duty to recommend its use in unequivocal term to every reader of this journal whose complaint comes within the list of ailments which this remedy is advertised to cure. We have obtained such overwhelming proof of the efficacy of this specific—have so satisfactorily demonstrated its curative powers through personal experiments—that a care for the interests of our readers leads us to call attention to its great value."

Mushroom Garden in France.

The strangest of these underground worlds which I visited was one devoted to the raising of mushrooms. Its limits seemed unbounded, as indeed they were, for it pierced the hillsides in every direction. We entered through an opening under an orchard of cherry trees. About ten feet inside the entrance was a well and near it a lantern, which my kind guide lighted. We had proceeded but a few steps when suddenly the air became very close and warm and a dense white mist shut us in. I found this was heat and steam rising from huge piles of manure, stacked in an adjoining passage. When brought from the cavalry barracks near by, it is here "worked" by the admixture of water until it attains the required consistency. We soon passed this steam and heat and entered caves where the air was dry and cool.

In these manure is laid out in rounded hummocks along the walls, and in the wider passages in lines down the center as well. Sometimes there are as many as five of these rows. The mushroom seed is then placed in these manure piles and the date of the "planting" is written on the wall above the section.

The mounds are then covered with a fine powder obtained by sifting the tailings from the quarried limestone, just as coal dust is separated from coal. The mushroom is now planted and the hummock is left undisturbed for three months, more or less, when the first growth begins to appear. The mushrooms continue to sprout during three months, but then engender a certain poisonous gas which kills their own seed. The whole planting must then be removed and the place thoroughly cleaned. During "harvest time" one crop is gathered every twenty-four hours. Three men with their great baskets make the rounds of this underground farm every morning and every day in the year can count on an immense crop which they ship to the large cities near by, and even several miles away. The discolored and inferior mushrooms are sent to the canneries, but for his best growth the producer receives only twenty cents a pound. —From "The Cliffdwellers," by E. C. Peixotto, in the June Scribner's.

The Colonel's "Pat Hand"

They were going to have a quiet little game, and they asked the Colonel to sit in.

"No," said he, "I haven't played a game in ten years. The last time I played I had a little bout with such an idiot of a player that I got disgusted and swore off cards forever."

"Why, say, it makes me boil even now to think of it. Positively, that man didn't know better than to call a pat hand on—but let me tell you about it."

"A social group of us used to have a tolerable snug little weekly session in Judge Baxter's office up my way, and I was in the habit of playing a pretty nifty game and scared the boys out many a time when they had me beaten to a standstill if they'd only had the sand to investigate, or perception enough to discover that I used a very hard cheek in my playing. But they hadn't and they simply declared session after session, that they never saw such luck stick by a man like it did by me. Simply nerve, my boy! And cheek, with a few dashes of sand."

"One night old Bub Ketchum, a good-natured lumberman from up the river and a client of Judge Baxter's, was in town, and the judge invited him to come around to the office and, if he didn't care to play look on at the fun. Old Bub was a level-headed man on most things, but I want to remind you right here that he didn't know a blame thing about playing draw poker. Not a blame thing."

"He showed up at the rendezvous but didn't care to play he said, and so he sat by and watched the game with as much interest as a luncheon about draw could be expected to watch a game that was played on the stiffest kind of correct principles."

"About 10 o'clock one of the boys had to go, and old Bub said he'd leave just his place as not for a few hands take to keep up the interest, and we let him come in. I had been showing more nerve and cheek than usual on to the boys that night and I really felt sorry the way they had been laying down."

"We played around two or three times after old Bub sat in without anything very stirring having happened, and then we fell into a jackpot. It went around four or five times, and was nice and fat when Judge Baxter opened it."

"Old Bub and two of the boys stayed and when it came to me I whipped her up some. The judge stood the raise, so did old Bub."

"How many do you want?" said the judge, who was dealing.

"Don't want any," said I when it came to me.

"Moses and Aaron!" said the judge. "He stands pat!"

"Gosh!" said old Bub, biting off a chew from his plug. "He does, doesn't he?"

"Well," said the judge, "I'll contribute one chip, anyhow, just to show that I ain't ashamed of my openers."

"I chip along!" said old Bub tossing in his bone.

"Raise it five," said I.

"See your five," said old Bub and "five better."

"What," exclaimed the judge, "Don't you know anything, Bub? He's got a pat hand."

"Gosh! that's so, ain't it?" said old Bub. "Well, my money's in. Let her go."

"Smile, yet better than you," said I smilingly, for of course the proper thing for old Bub to do now, if he hadn't been such an infernal idiot about the game, was to lay down."

"But that old ram didn't seem to have any sense at all, he didn't and came back at me as stiff as ever, and lifted me five more."

"Why, Bub, you log-choppin' old fool you," exclaimed the judge. "Don't you know anything? He's standing pat against you."

"Gosh!" said old Bub, "he is ain't he? Maybe I hadn't ought to bet that time."

"This unsophisticated old chap is going to make trouble here," I said to myself, if this sort of thing goes on. He don't know enough to lay down I'll just settle him right now. Then I chucked a bundle on the table and said smiling like everything, "Raise you fifty."

"That's right, Colonel," said the judge, nodding at me approvingly. "Shut the darn old mutton-head off and save him his money."

"Gosh!" exclaimed old Bub. "I've just got a fifty here that I'm willing to squander just to learn this game! Colonel" said he, "I call you."

"Judge Baxter and the rest were naturally struck dumb by old Bub's recklessness. So was I."

"What did you catch, Colonel?" said old Bub.

"A pair o' deuces," said I, chucking such an idiotic player.

"Gosh!" exclaimed old Bub. "That's a darn sight better hand than I thought you had! I got a pair o' trays!"

"That was too much. My indignation broke all bounds."

"A pair o' trays" I almost shouted. "Here I've been sitting for an hour with a man who don't know any more about the game than to call a pat hand on a pair o' trays. That disgusts me with draw, and I'll never play another game!"

"I remember looking back as I strode out of the room. The judge and the rest o' the boys sat there still in open-mouthed amazement, and the grin on old Bub's face was exasperating to see as he gathered in the pot. And I remember hearing him say as I banded the door:

"Them pat hands is dangerous things mostly."

"So, I'm obliged to you boys, but you'll have to excuse me, I haven't played a game in ten years," said the Colonel.

He Bought Experience.

A certain fellow who answered advertisements in cheap story papers has had some interesting experiences, according to the London (Ky.) Echo. He learned that by sending $1 to a Yankee he could get a cure for drunkenness. And he did. It was to "take the pledge and keep it."

Then he sent 50 two-cent stamps to find out how to raise turnips successfully. He found out: "Just take hold of the tops and pull."

Being young he wished to marry, and sent 34 one-cent stamps to a Chicago firm for information as to how to make an impression. When the answer came it read: "Sit down, on a pan of dough." It was a little rough, but he was a patient man and thought he would yet succeed.

The next advertisement he answered read, "How to double your money in six months." He was told to convert his money into bills and fold them and he would see his money doubled.

Next he sent for 12 useful household articles and he got a package of needles.

He was slow to learn so he sent $1 to find out "how to get rich." "Work like the devil and never spend a cent," stopped him.

His brother wrote to find out how to write without pen or ink. He was told to use a lead pencil.

He paid $1 to learn how to live without work and was told on a postal card, "Fish for suckers as we do."

STARTLING EVIDENCE.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonsville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefitted. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing lung and throat troubles, consumption, pneumonia and grip. Guaranteed by C. E. Anderson, druggist. Trial bottles free, regular size 50c and $1.

First Call Troops.

The First Call Troops of Ohio will hold their annual reunion in this city August 13 and 14. The state organization is one of the most prominent of any body of civil war veterans and Coshocton is honored not only in having the remnant of the gallant band convene here, but in the fact that the officers of the organization are local men. The president is Judge Voorhees and the secretary W. H. Coe.

Piles

In order to prove to you that Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for any form of itching, bleeding, protruding piles, the manufacturer guarantees a cure. You can use it and if not cured get your money back. Mr. Casper Walton, laborer, Michigan City, Ind., says: "I work hard and lift a great deal. The strain brought on an attack of piles. They itched and they protruded and bled. Nothing helped them until I used Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment. That cured them." See a box at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

NATURE'S OWN CURE.

Hyomel Cures Catarrh Without Dangerous Drugging of the Stomach.

Not until Hyomel was discovered has it been possible to truthfully say that a remedy for catarrh was known.

This remedy is breathed through the Hyomel inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and during that time every particle of air taken into the air passages and lungs is impregnated with the germ killing and health giving Hyomel. It is the only treatment that cures catarrh.

Stomach drugging often causes disordered digestion or brings on some other diseases and never makes a permanent cure of catarrh. Hyomel not only kills the germs in the throat and nose, but penetrates to the minutest air cells in the lungs and enters the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood. It frees the mucous membrane from poisonous microbes and gives perfect health.

A complete outfit costs but $1.00, and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomel for more than a month's treatment.

C. E. Anderson has so much in the merit of Hyomel that he agrees to return the money to any purchased who may be dissatisfied.

It is estimated that half the vine crop of France was destroyed by the frosts of April.

DEMOCRATIC SLATE MAKING.

The Democrat and Standard devotes considerable space to the Democratic county convention, but utterly fails to mention the supplementary part of it that was addressed by Former Commissioner Marshall and Hugh Gamble. These two Democratic wheelhorses exposed to the light of day how the Democratic ring had held a secret meeting at the court house on Decoration day and made up a slate to be nominated at the primary. Every detail of the annual proceeding was cut and dried and there was nothing left for the party to do but accept the edict of the ring. Never before was there such a tyrannical exhibition of slate making in Cohocton county politics. After the ringsters had formed their compact and issued their decree there was absolutely no hope for the candidates who were not on the slate. This placed the seal of condemnation on the hopes of such life-long and zealous Democrats as Frank L. Rodehaver, Robert Crouch, Hugh Gamble, W. S. Merrell, W. B. Evans, E. J. Kuntz, A. M. Marshall, McNulty Dixon, Valentine Hothem, Ellihu Darr, Thomas West, J. C. Speck and Samuel Moore. These men thought they had a fair chance to test their strength at the primary election but they were mistaken. After the Decoration day slate was made up they had no earthly chance. The decree of the bosses was supreme, and the result came out just that way.

Insult has been added to this injury by the Democrat and Standard's refusal to even mention the monster meeting in city hall at the close of the convention which was presided over by Former Sheriff Clark and attended by Allen Marshall and John Gamble. The Democrat and Standard refuse to lay before its readers the truths about the slate making that were told by these two old-line Democrats. The same ring of slate makers tried to trot this exposure by adjourning the convention abruptly without giving anyone a chance to speak, and Mayor Rinner had his police attempt to disperse the crowd and Turnkey Decker undertake to lock the doors of the hall, but all these efforts failed to prevent the storm of indignation from breaking.

CONTRACT BREAKING.

President Slocum of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, has suspended 400 members of the Chicago union for breaking a contract and President Young of the Teamsters' union has similarly disciplined 300 striking teamsters in St. Louis for the same offense. These are the wisest acts in the recent history of labor troubles.

First, it is right. A contract must be kept. Any union would hold an employer to a wage contract by legal means, if necessary. Such a method would be futile in the reverse case, for suits for damages against individual members of a union who may strike in violation of a contract would be futile.

It is not to be supposed that the heads of these two national labor organizations would have adopted wholesale suspensions as a means of discipline had they not felt sure that the mass of their membership all over the union will heartily support them therein. The St. Louis teamsters evidently felt this to be the case, for fully 90 per cent. returned to work at once, while the recalcitrant minority were summarily disciplined. This course will meet the approbation of the general public, as a hopeful sign that the prophecy of Grand Master Morrissey of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, will speedily come to pass. Mr. Morrissey said a few days ago: "We predict that we shall see the time when we will regard the contract breaker, whether a member or non-member, with as much contempt as we do the scab."

Our Candidates

Warren G. Harding.

Hon. Warren G. Harding is a Morrow county product, born in Blooming Grove, November 2, 1865. He has resided in Marion since 1882. He received an academic education at the old Ohio central college at New Iberla and later on taught school. He studied law a year or so, when he became a newspaper writer and purchased the Marion Star, then at a very low ebb but now one of the brightest papers in Ohio and a splendid property.

In 1899 he was nominated for state senator from the Thirteenth district, and two years later was renominated for another term being the first man to break the one term rule in that district. During both terms in the senate he was one of the leaders of that body and impressed himself upon the legislation of the Seventy-third and Seventy-fourth general assembly.

While one object he had in accepting his second nomination was that he might have the pleasure of voting for Foraker for Senator, he was of invaluable service in steering the state administration's legislation away from the rocks and was equally responsive to Senator Hanna's desires regarding legislation which would strengthen the party.

His legislative career is too recent to require detailed review, but perhaps his most signal service as a practical, business-like legislator was in bringing to a common ground such utterly diverse and opposing interests as were represented by the Anti-saloon League and the State Brewers' association.

It was Harding who engineered the plan whereby the Beal local option law was made so satisfactory to all interests concerned that both sides accepted it and it became a law without one dissenting vote.

Senator Hanna, in congratulating Harding on the outcome, declared this work was the ablest piece of statesmanship which had ever been accomplished in the Ohio legislature.

Augustus N. Summers.

Augustus N. Summers is a well known Clark county attorney who is now serving on the circuit court bench. He has for years occupied an enviable position among the attorneys of the state, and his work on the bench has been of the highest order.

He lives in Springfield, where he some years ago married a daughter of Hon. John H. Thomas. With his election to the supreme court bench one of the first duties of Governor Herrick will be to appoint his successor.

Professor E. A. Jones.

Professor E. A. Jones of Massillon has been superintendent of the public schools in that city for fifteen years, and is highly connected with the educational interests of the state.

He has a fine record as an old soldier, and his nomination will be a source of strength to the ticket where he is known.

George H. Watkins.

George H. Watkins of Wakefield, Pike county has been connected with the public works of Ohio for years, and his nomination is a tribute to his services along the waterways.

No man in Ohio is better posted, no man has had more experience or knows more about what the canal system of this state needs.

Walter D. Guilbert.

Hon. W. D. Guilbert was born in Guernsey county of French-Irish ancestors and was reared on a farm. The father of Mr. Guilbert came to this country from France when a youth and settled in Guernsey county. The subject of this sketch was educated in the public schools and at Wenona academy, Ill.

He was twice elected auditor of Noble county, O., and proved himself a most capable official. In 1888 he became chief clerk in the auditor of state's office, continuing in that position until 1896 when he succeeded to the important office of auditor of state, having been nominated and elected in the fall of 1895.

Mr. Guilbert has been active in the affairs of the Republican party, having served as chairman of his county committee for a number of years, and as a member of the state executive committee. He was also a delegate to the national Republican convention in 1888. His management of the auditor's office has been a conspicuous success.

Mr. Guilbert has also inaugurated a uniform system of accounting, which will prove valuable in the future in providing against irregularities in accounts, in preventing the collection of illegal fees, and the protection of the public against frauds by public officers.

The expert accountants are already in the field and are fairly started upon this work, and a turning over of the office into different hands at this time would, without doubt, interfere with a satisfactory conclusion of the work now in progress.

Old Time Conversations.

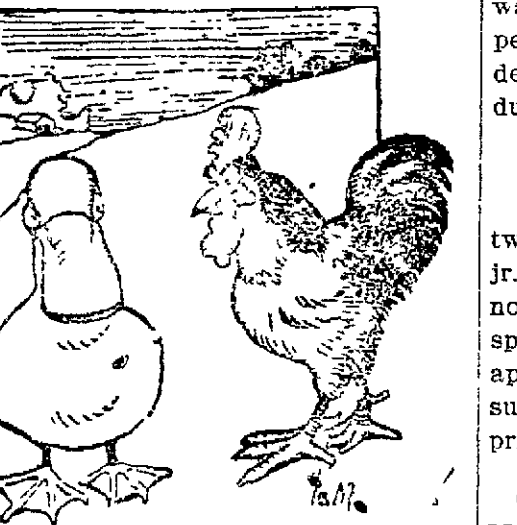

Rev. Hill preached last evening at the evening service at the tent after a very enthusiastic prayer service. Mr. Doty sang to the delight of the audience that filled the tent. Rev. Hill gave some vivid experiences from real life. There were services held at 10 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. today and there will be preaching at 7:30 this evening. Wednesday Mr. Brooks will give Bible expositions at 10 and 2:30, and one of the evangelists will preach at 7:30.

Dolph White Reformed.

John Elson of this city, paid Dolph White a visit at Dresden Monday. Dolph is married and doing well according to the report brought by Mr. Elson. He says he was surprised to find Dolph had totally reformed and is leading a Christian life.

Papers on Germany.

The New Century club held the last meeting of the season Monday evening with Miss Agnes Crawford at her home on South Fourth street.
On account of the absence of some of the members the program was necessarily shortened. Miss Shirley Fisher read a very interesting paper on "The Present Emperor of Germany," and Miss Lella Biggs followed with a well written paper on "German Philosophers." Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

COURT HOUSE

Another Petition.

Elias Allen, through his attorney,
J. C. Daugherty has filed his petition in probate court asking to be divorced from Harriett Allen. He states in the petition that they were married in Knox county, February 18, 1861 and that they have nine children. He charges her with gross neglect of duty in that about September, 1900, she refused to cohabit with him. He alleges that she would not cook for him and would hide the victuals and lock the door on him. That she continued to thus mistreat him for two years wherefore he asks that the marital relation be dissolved.

Probate Court.

Second account filed of Mary Bixler, guardian of Joseph Fredenburg,
a minor.

First and final account filed of Carl Schmid, guardian of Samuel Taylor,
a minor.

Peter Heft has filed a petition in probate court asking that 314 acres of land in Jefferson township be partitioned. The defendants are William Heft, Rosanna Frederick and W. W.
Frederick. John Heft died in 1877 leaving the land to his widow, Rosanna Heft during her life and at her death it was to descend to the four children. In 1901, John Heft, jr., one of the children sold his interest to W. W. Frederick. The widow died last April and each of the defendants became sized of the undivided one-fourth of the above land. Peter Heft asks that the shares be set off by the court. Pomerene & Pomerene are the attorneys.

AMUSEMENTS

The historic wild west was de- signed by its proprietor and founder, Major Gordon W. Lillie, (Pawnee Bill) to serve a great amusement- loving people two purposes; namely, to familiarize those who know only through the newspapers the primi- tive dwellers of the far west and those numerous races of men whose lives are mostly spent in the saddle—the cowboys, the wary Indians, Mexicans, Vaqueros, Arabs, Russian Cossacks, Japanese, Koreans and others—these people in their true dress, occupation and feats of pas- time. To this end, therefore, Paw- nee Bill has labored with unwearied and unwavering zeal, which has been crowned with undisputable success. One can understand the immensity of his organization when it is told that he employs over a thousand persons and is given under ten acres of canvas, this immense space being necessary to give scope to the won- derful feats of horsemanship that is a strong feature with this show. These hardy and dexterous horsemen may be considered as on the border line between the wild irregulars and the trained and drilled military; for though they wear the well-known uniform and are regularly enlisted soldiers among the Cossacks and other national lines, they ride with a wild, fierce dash and individuality not characteristic with any of the trained bodies of cavalymen usually seen on exhibition at parades and reviews.

The Cossack alone is a marvel in horsemanship. With a horse at full gallop he swoops down and picks up a handkerchief from the ground, holding fast by the saddle, seemingly floating along beside his steed; then throws himself back to his seat, and, throwing his feet straight up in the air, rests on his shoulders or head upon the saddle; leaps off, and run- ning a short distance after his flying charger, by one bound from the ground, regains his seat, crossing his stirrups over the saddle, stands up- right with his toes in them, and all this without diminishing his head- long pace. This splendid exhibition will be here June 11.

Doan's Kidney Pills

Cure every kidney ill from Common backache to diabetes.

Captain Fred A. Lewis, proprietor of the grocery store at 403 West Main street, Springfield, O., a veteran of the Crimean War and of the Civil War, says: "Hard- ships endured while serving under two flags may have laid the foundation for kidney complaint and bla trouble, both of which annoyed me greatly for eight years. The cause is not so much im- portance as what cured me. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the Arcade Drug Store and took a thorough course of the treatment. If I had not been more than satisfied with the results, I never would have recommended the preparation to many of my customers in Springfield, nor advised people outside of the city to try the remedy. Any sufferer from kidney complaint stands in his own light who does not try Doan's Kidney Pills."

OHIO OLIO.

Receiver Asked For Odeh Commis- sion House by a Stockholder.

Cincinnati, June 9.—Thomas O. McBride, of Savannah, Ga. in the United States district court applied for a re- ceiver for the W. J. O'Dell Commis- sion company, of Cincinnati, and for a general accounting. He also peti- tions that the officers and shareholders in the company be enjoined from interfering with the books or the man- agement of the concern. The petition states that the O'Dell Commission company was organized in 1898 with $25,000 of capital stock. McBride claims that he paid $6,200 and holds 25 shares of stock. He also claims 27 other shares for which no certifi- cate has been issued to him. Ever since June 1 he has been asking for an accounting and it has been refused him. The O'Dell company has leased wires throughout the southern and middle states and do an unusually large brokerage business.

Would Oust the Combine.

Upper Sandusky, O., June 9.—A suit to oust the agricultural imple- ment trust, known as the Interna- tional Harvester company, from doing business in Ohio, has been filed in the Wyandot county circuit court by George Goodrich, prosecuting attorney of the county. The defendants to the suit, aside from the first named, are the Milwaukee Harvester com- pany, of Wisconsin; the McCormack Harvesting Machine company, of Illi- nois; the Deering Harvester company, the Plano Manufacturing company and the Warder-Bushnell, Glessner com- pany, all of Ohio.

Makes an Assignment.

Cincinnati, June 9.—The bondhold- ers of the Pike building, which be- longed to the Pike Building company, and which was destroyed by fire last February, through the Union Savings Bank & Trust company filed a petition in the superior court for an account- ing and a receiver. A short time after- ward the Pike Building company filed a deed of assignment to the Provident Bank & Savings company, in which the assets were stated to be unknown and the liabilities to be $300,000. The outstanding bonds are $275,600. The property was insured for $165,000.

Roosevelt Sends Gift.

Cleveland, June 9.—Many of those who will attend and participate in the marriage of Miss Ruth Hanna and Joseph Medill McCormick Wednesday noon are already in the city. About all the bridal party is in town. Mon- day night Miss Hanna and Mr. Mc- Cormick were dined at the Union club by Mrs. L. G. Hanna, an aunt of the bride. Similar entertainments were given today by the Hanna family and relatives. A number of beautiful pre- sents have been received, that of the president being an after dinner gold coffee set.

Against Diamond Importers.

Cincinnati, June 9.—The first of a number of cases to be tried by the government against diamond import- ers all over the country was heard here in the office of Collector of Customs Amor Smith and decided against Fox Brothers & Company, of this city. General Thaddeus S. Sharratt, pres- ident of the board of general apprais- ers for the government, tried the case and increased the assessment of Fox Brothers & Company over the first appraisement to the amount of $27,000.

COPPER IS GIRL AGENCY

Wheeling Policeman Builds Up Unique and Profit- able Sideline.

Wheeling is one of the few cities in the United States that has a hired girl agency, that is to say an agency where nothing but upstairs maids and cooks are procured, says the Wheeling Telegraph. It is conducted by one man, who finds time to attend to the work connected with the agency besides his regular line of business. Very few people, compara- tively, know of the existence of the agency, although it is worth quite a little money on the side.

It is conducted by Officer Henke, whose beat is at present in the Third ward. About two years ago he con- ceived the idea. A wealthy business man in the city asked him to secure an upstairs maid for him. He did so and was recompensed to the extent of $5. Since that time he has con- ducted a steadily growing business until now it has reached large proportions.

Henke does not depend upon this city alone from which to supply the maids. At the present time he has two maids on the way from Austria, both of whom he will place in posi- tion nsas soon as they reach the city.

It is an excellent local solution of the "hired-girl" problem. One feature he makes in the work is to select the girls with regard to their reliabil- ity. There are very few instances in which he has ever placed an unre- liable girl. Of course during the past two years he met with a number of funny instances. A short time ago after procuring a girl for a man he asked him if he (the man) had not for- gotten something. When the man finally realized that there was a fee at- tached to the service he made an aw- ful roar and thought the agent ought to do the work for the girl's sake. He paid the five spot however.

Lots of people try to get the rates reduced, after they have secured the maid, but it does not work. One man prominent in business circles is still on the agency's books as owing the fee.

Situation Unchanged.

Philadelphia, June 9.—The second week of the strike of the textile work- ers of Philadelphia opened with no gain in advantage for either side. There were no developments in the struggle, each side waiting for the other to make a move.

Omaha Strike Ended.

Omaha, Neb., June 9.—The last echo of the shopmen's strike of the Union Pacific died away when the blacksmiths completed terms of set- tlement with President Burt and Su- perintendent of Motive Power McKeen.

Fishermen Strike.

Vancouver, B. C., June 9.—The sal- mon fishermen declared a strike against the canneries.

Eleven Hundred Quit.

San Francisco, June 9.—Over 1,100 employees of the American Can com- pany went on strike.

Will Be Tried Together.

Jackson, Ky., June 9.—Benjamin Golden, of Barboursville, arrived here to assist in the defense of White and Jett. Attorney O'Neal expressed the opinion that Jett and White would be tried jointly. The town is quiet, though firing by drunken men on the outskirts of the camp is expected as a nightly occurrence. It is anticipated that the additional venire from Ma- gohn county will arrive and the trials proceed. The troops look forward to the time when a verdict is returned as an occasion for trouble, if an at- tack has ever really been in contem- plation by friends of the prisoners, and extra precautions will probably be coincident with the close of the trials.

Groff Brothers Indicted.

Washington, June 9.—The federal grand jury has found true bills against the Groff Brothers in connection with the alleged offering of bribes to A. W. Machen, former superintendent of free delivery of the postoffice depart- ment. This action was taken, it is learned, on the same day that Mr. Machen was indicted. The delay in pre- senting the indictments has been due to the fact that they could not be pre- pared for presentation before now.

Manufacturers of American threshers, reapers, binders and mowers have a monopoly of the trade of France, and their goods are becoming more popular each year.

WORST OF ALL EXPERIENCES.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newson, Decatur, Ala. "For three years" she writes, "I endured insur- mountable pain from indigestion, stom- ach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all reme- dies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I'm completely recover- ed." For liver, kidney, stomach and bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50c. It's guaran- teed by C. E. Anderson, druggist.

The Fountain Dry Goods Company.

Seasonable goods in every department greets you. On every hand can be seen the greatest display of dry goods, carpets, curtains and draperies to be had outside of the very large cities; certainly no town in Ohio today of near the size of Coshocton offers such trading facilities as the Big Fountain Store. The management of The Fountain is doing everything possible to establish in Coshocton a store that the people will be proud of. Every citizen we believe whether a patron at the Fountain or not is proud we have such a store in Coshocton. You can point with pride to the fact that Coshocton has today the best store in the dry goods and carpet line of any county seat town in Ohio, excepting a few of our very large cities. With those many advantages offered by our local merchants there ought to be no good reason why everybody should not be able to find just what they want at the Big Store. If we have not what you want we will take great pleasure in getting it for you as we are in close touch with all the great manufacturing and importing houses of this country and our associated purchasing power is not equalled by any merchant in this section of Ohio. Come to the great Fountain store, the store that pleases every customer.

Our business is to look carefully after every customer's interests. Every article sold in the Big Store must be the best to be had for the money. You can send your children to shop if you care to, they will be given the same price as yourself. Every customer trades with the confidence that her money has as great a purchasing power as her neighbor. Make the Fountain your stopping place while shopping. Use our ladies parlor at your pleasure, have your friends meet you here. We want your friendship. We want your business and if fair and honorable dealing with the public will merit a large share of your patronage we are sure to get it, as we will not submit to any unfair methods to secure business.

Make the Fountain your home, you will always be welcome. We have plenty of room for you and all your friends. Yours to please.

WATERS CREEP

From Cahokia creek bridge north, the railroad yards are still out of water, by reason of the levees, and are lined with freight cars containing refugees. Each car contained two or three families, and nearly every family had from two to three dogs.
May Call Special Session.
Topeka, Kas., June 9.—It is regarded as practically certain that there will be a special session of the Kansas Legislature within two weeks to appropriate money to relieve some of the damage caused by the flood of a week ago. Telegrams are being sent to all the members asking them to serve without pay. Up to this time replies from 20 have been received who are favorable to the arrangement. It is understood that the governor is not favorable to a special session for the purpose of appropriating for the indiscriminate use of money for the relieving the flood sufferers. If a special session is called it will be for the purpose of appropriating for the building of bridges which have been washed away by the flood.

Transferred.

Al Hardwick, who is in the railway mail service, has received word that he has been transferred from the Fifth to the Sixth division. In future his headquarters will be in Indianapolis, and it is likely he will have a run on the Panhandle somewhere between Pittsburg and St. Louis.

Six hundred men are regularly employed on the new steamship Kaiser Wilhelm.

Cut Three Fingers.

Mr. Pfefferhorn, a finisher in the employ of the Boston Piano and Organ company met with an accident while working on a saw at the factory Monday afternoon. Three fingers of the left hand were caught in the saw and frightfully lacerated. Dr. H. R. McCurdy dressed the injured fingers but did not find amputation necessary. Mr. Pfefferhorn came here from Wooster.

ZANESVILLE MAN ARRESTED

Serious Charge Against Prominent Real Estate Man.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
Zanesville, O., June 9.—Edward Welsh, a prominent real estate dealer and former member of the city council was placed under arrest today by a United States marshal and taken to Columbus to answer a charge of sending obscene letters through the mails.

Miss Lura Gray, a young woman in Springfield township is the plaintiff in the action.

Welsh, who is about 27, was recently married to Miss Lilly Brown, of this city. Prior to his engagement and marriage to Miss Brown Welsh had kept company with Miss Gray and it was generally understood and is now alleged by Miss Gray, that he was engaged to marry her.

Suddenly the friendship with Miss Gray was broken off and he began keeping company and paying court to Miss Brown, whom he subsequently married.

Suit Was Instituted.

Miss Gray in the meantime, threatened to institute breach or promise proceedings against Welsh and it was during an exchange of letters between the two that Welsh is alleged to have written certain obscene and insulting passages which were enclosed in the letter and mailed to Miss Gray.

The letters are now in the possession of the authorities and their contents are refused to the public.

Welsh was arrested last night at midnight at his own home and placed in jail. His arrest caused an exciting scene at his home, his bride weeping hysterically. He was not permitted to offer bond and was not arraigned before the local United States commissioner E. R. Meyer, being taken direct to Columbus for preliminary hearing and subsequent trial.

Welsh was the Republican member of the last council and broke the tie by voting with the Democrats in effecting an organization of council by the Democrats. For this act he was "read out of the party" by Republican leaders and the local Republican press.

He is also a law student, energetic and considered honest and fair in all his dealings.

Ohio Crops.

The following is the Ohio crop bulletin for the week:

The weather was rather warm during the first of the week but cool toward the end. Rain has fallen on nearly every day in most sections. The fall has not been excessive except in a few localities in the central northern counties there has not been quite enough rain to moisten the ground properly. High winds, lightning and hail have caused damage in the northwestern counties.

The planting of corn has been delayed in a few instances by heavy rains but generally much plowing and planting has been done. The work is not completed, however, in any district. Early planted corn is coming fairly well and cultivation has begun. In places it is too wet to cultivate and the fields are very weedy.

Wheat is heading, most correspondents reporting the straw rather short. The condition continues good in northern and eastern counties, but there is much complaint of rust in the southwest and the prospects is less encouraging there. There is some fly in southwestern and central northwestern counties also.

Oats are short, but making marked improvement. Barley is fair. Rye is good in central and southwestern counties, but not so promising in the northwestern. Grass and pastures are improving fast, though most correspondents in southern counties predict a light crop of hay.

Potatoes and gardens are doing well.

Blackberries are very promising. Cherries indicate a small crop. Grapes are good. Peaches are not plentiful. The correspondent on Catawba island reports that the peach crop will be light there. The leaf curl is affecting peach trees in central and northern districts. The high wind has blown off many apples in western counties.

Excursion tickets to Denver, Col., account Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, will be sold July 6, 7 and 8. Particular information regarding rates and time of trains furnished by ticket agents of Pennsylvania lines.

and western counties are much interested in the game.

Daily Racing Review

[By Telegraph to The Age]

New York, June 9.—Twenty horses may start in the Suburban, the last and one of the more important of the spring handicaps, now a little more than a week away. The field will be one of the largest that ever faced a starter in this famous track events. The Whitney stable will make a bid to add this classic to its string of victories that includes the winning of the Excelsior, Metropolitan and Brooklyn handicaps.

Detroit, June 9.—Reservation held at Royal Oak, and owned by George Hendric, the Detroit millionaire won the International Derby at Grosse Pointe in the presence of 5,000 people. Reservation was behind for six furlongs, then gradually worked his way through. He caught the rest as they rounded the stretch and was running away at the end.

New York, June 9.—August Belmont's Magistrate won the Manhattan stakes for 2-year-olds at Gravesend yesterday.

Stuebenville Wants a Game.

Manager Sam Ashman of the Fountains has received a letter from the management of the Steubenville base ball team wanting a game in this city Saturday. On account of the game at Newark, Manager Ashman could not accommodate them. He will try to arrange for a game in this city later in the season however. The Steubenville team is one of the strongest in the river counties.

It's the truth. Advertising pays.

Richland's Good Roads.

[By Telegraph to The Age]

Mansfield, O., June 9.—Gandert Bros. who have the contract for building a half mile of pike on the Springfield Mill road from the corporation line to the Twitchell farm expect to begin operations next week. They are getting everything ready to begin. The county commissioners and the Madison township trustees will go out along the line of the proposed pike this afternoon to see about providing for proper drainage. The Crestline electric road runs on the south side of the road and iron pipes will have to be laid under the tracks so as to carry off the water from the road.

The Madison township trustees have awarded to Peter Straub the contract for piking the North Main street road for half a mile from the reformatory land north.

The township trustees have been doing a great deal of piking within the past two years and their efforts in this regard have been much appreciated. Good roads mean much to a city or town and there should be a concerted movement in every township in the county for piked roads.

STEREOPTICON LECTURE.

"Rev. J. A. Eby gave his stereopticon lecture "In His Steps" here three times to delighted audiences. Everybody with whom I spoke said "fine."
